INSULIN DISCOVERED 100 YEARS AGO

MANUFACTURING HOPE

By John Lorinc

One mild day in the middle of May 1921, two men entered a small, filthy upper-floor room in the University of Toronto's imposing medical building, on King's Circle, and began to scrub every surface. The elder of the pair, Frederick G. Banting, was a twenty-nine-year-old orthopedic surgeon, then based in London, Ontario. The other was Charles H. Best, a twenty-two-year-old physiology and biochemistry student who had just finished his fourth year at the U of T. They had met just days before – introduced by John J.R. Macleod, one of Best's professors and an eminent U of T scientist... This interesting story is chronicled in the latest edition of Canada's History and is well worth reading. For members of the Esquesing Historical Society, it is Charles Herbert Best's connections to our township that is of further interest. Our Archives has many interesting pictures connected to the Best family history.

Charles Herbert Best (1899-1978) was born in Maine, USA and came to attend the University of Toronto in 1915. He ended up with a farm at Stewarttown and participated in Georgetown social life. He is pictured with the Georgetown team as Halton-Peel Baseball League champions for 1920 (EHS00084). He also attended the 1927 Old Boys Reunion (EHS00191). In a photo taken on Labour Day 1920 he is pictured with the leaders of the community and Ontario Premier “Bud” Drury at a community picnic (EHS01372). His interest in politics was passed on to his eldest son Charles Alexander Best (1931-1978).

Charles H. Best married Margaret Mahon (1900-1988) in 1924 and they would spend their summers in a log cabin he built overlooking the Willoughby Golf Links (North Halton Golf & Country Club). They had two boys -Charles Alexander and Henry Bruce Macleod Best (1934-2004).

Charles Alexander Best, known as Sandy Best, became the Conservative member of Parliament for Halton 1957 and again in 1958. He married Eileen Jane Thompson in 1958 and they had five children. Besides his brush with politics, Best was a farmer, nurseryman and scientist.

REQUEST FOR ARBOR DAY INFO

Although there are claims from other places as to being the first site to celebrate Arbor Day, the one started in Nebraska in 1872 seems to be the one that got the activity really started. Arbor Day has been replaced by Earth Day. Next year (2022) will mark 150 years) since the event got started. It took some time before the movement reached Ontario and elsewhere. By the 1920s, Arbor Days seemed to be a common action for Ontario Public Schools each April. Although the details of what happened at each school are no longer available, a small bit of the impact of those activities may still remain. That is most likely in the form of trees that would have been planted along the edge of the old school yards. If any of the EHS members can recall spending an April school day involving Arbor Day, we would like to hear about that. We would like to know if any trees were planted, any shrubs or perennials were planted, or was it just clean-up of the school yard? We are mainly interested in the local schools of Esquesing and Chinguacousy but recollections from anywhere are welcome. We would like to know what places were involved and the year(s) if possible. Please contact Bill McIlveen at wmcilveen@sympatico.ca if you can add any information. All information would be welcome. In due course, we would like to check the sites to determine what became of the efforts from those old school day activities and plantings.

Steve McNamara

Membership fees and donations totalled $1,512, and accounted for fifty percent of cash received in 2020. Thank you all for your continued support.

Archive photo sales for the year were $425, and publication sales brought in another $241. Receipts from Jan Raymond's tea and baked goods were $103. Total cash receipts for the year were $3,020.

On the expense side, hall rental costs of $150 and supply spending of $20 were down significantly resulting from Covid-19 cancellations.

High School History Awards of $200 each were presented to Alyssa Firth from Acton District High School, and Gabrielle Costello from Georgetown District High School. Due to Covid-19 disruptions throughout the school year, a recipient from Christ the King High School has not been named at this time.

The EHS insurance premium for 2020 was $648; $162 for director and officer liability, and $486 for general liability coverage. The total insurance premium amount was unchanged from the prior year.

Membership fees paid in 2020 were $155; $95 to the Archives Association of Ontario, and $60 to the Ontario Historical Society.

Wrapping up the expense items are $195 for our post office box renewal, and $125 in honorariums paid to speakers back in January and February.

APPLE PRODUCTS OPERATED IN WILLIAMS MILL

John Mark Rowe

A canned fruit business once provided employment in the Williams Mill, 515 Main Street, Glen Williams. Apple Products, processors of apples and fruit for commercial use started operations in the Glen 95 years ago.

John F. Lindner (1887-1965) rented the empty saw mill and shuttered power plant in 1926 to operate a seasonal apple processing business in connection with the food processing business his father started in Brampton in 1915. It was known as The Glen Company and he purchased the property after two years of operation. Alas, the Depression soon reduced demand until bankruptcy ensued in 1935. However, a local backer was found -William Mullin and the company name became Lindner & Mullin Apple Products.

EHS04939

Demand for apple pie filling returned and in 1944, Lindner bought out Apple Products, returning it to his family. By 1949, the company operated from September 1st until mid-March with an average of 35 employees, processing 20,000 barrels of Ontario apples each season. John Lindner and his son Bill had invented a paring and coring machine for the apples, after four years of work, which could process 120 apples a minute! They processed 75% Northern Spy apples with the balance being Rhode Island greenings or Baldwins.

They opened a Norval facility to slice apples in 1951. Apple Products grew during the 1960s making two additions to the former power plant. By 1969 manager John Wagstaffe had between 80 and 90 employees producing over 4 million pounds of product per year. Modern refrigeration allowed the company to expand to year-round production, adding a block building to the complex on Main Street.

An example of the fine employers the Lindners were was the company Christmas party with carol singing, piano solos and square dancing!

When a walk to support Oxfam came through the village in 1969, Apple Products provided apples for the 5000 walkers at the Glen checkpoint.

William and Marion Lindner continued to operate the business until Marion sold Apple Products in 1985 to Rinehart Vinegars in Stayner. The buildings had become decrepit by that time, but were fortunately rescued by Doug and Mary Lou Brock. While the Williams Mill has been used for many creative projects since then, food is once again featured in the Glen Tavern Restaurant, located in the Williams Mill itself.
